

Privacy Policy

This privacy policy (“Policy”) describes how Mothers Supporting Mothers uses your information.

What we collect

We get information about you in a range of ways.

Information You Give Us

We collect your name, email address, phone number, and other information you directly give us on our Site.

Information Automatically Collected

We automatically log information about you and your computer. For example, when visiting our Site, we log browser type, pages you viewed, how long you spent on a page and information about your use of and actions on our Site.

Cookies

We may log information using "cookies." Cookies are small data files stored on your hard drive by a website. Cookies help us make our Site and your visit better. We use cookies to see which parts of our Site people use and like and to count visits to our Site.

Use of personal information

We use your personal information as follows:

We use your personal information to operate, maintain, and improve our sites and services.

We use your personal information to respond to comments and questions and provide customer service.

We use your personal information to provide and deliver services members request.

Sharing of personal information

We may share personal information with your consent. For example, we may share personal information for legal, protection, and safety purposes.

We may share information to comply with laws.

We may share information to respond to lawful requests and legal process.

We may share information to protect the rights and property of Mothers supporting Mothers,

Members, and others. This includes enforcing our agreements, policies, and terms of use.

We may share information in an emergency. This includes protecting the safety of our employees and members.

We may share information with those who need it to do work for us.